Important Disclosures. STUPENDOUS RAILROAD SCHEME FOR THE CITY OF

NEW YORK. It appears that we are to have another grand railroad operation in the city of New York, which, in point of peculation, will outrival all others, and even throw the great Pacific railway attempt completely in the shade. n shrewd and bold adventurers have concocted a plan to fasten upon this city a railroad in Broatway, ferry to the Hoboken ferry, and still another through avenue D, Columbia street and Fast Broadway. The plan of operation is well laid, the parties interested having engaged subtle tools at Albany, who are now busy in preparing the material for "putting through the mill" the several bills intended to be presented during the present session of the Legislature.

It is well known that there is a class of men in this community who are open to any chance or adventure for making money, and who for the past few years have been lurking about our City Hall, engaged in the lauda-ble pursuit of securing railroad grants, ferry franchises, and all kinds of fat jobs. Among these a clique has been formed, whose sole object it is to obtain grants similar to that given to a company to lay rails in certain streets in the cities of Williamsburg, Brooklyn and Bushwisk, passed June 29, 1883.

clique is made up of three distinct interests, and may be classified as follows:—First, the Broadway Com-pany; second, the Grand Street Company; third, the Avenue D and East Broadway Company. These three in-terests all work in common with one another, and when blended together form one harmonious whole—the most finished and skilful lobby ever formed by a "Third

The members of this accomplished and formidable lobby have been busy for the past six months, and have gone into the subject with such nice calcula ions as to secure the election of certain members of th Legislature, for the express purpose of carrying this stupendous project by a coup d'état-every point has been well guarded, and they feel sanguine of success.

This association is made up of all kinds of material contractors, men holding office under the State govern-ment, and also others holding high positions in this city-in fact, the projectors have tried to secure ever allable interest that ingenuity and cunning could devise; they will be untiring, being well organ-ised, and will endeavor to accomplish the great work which they have laid out for themselve But we hope that there is sufficient integrity in the Legielature to give this subject a blank denial. If, how ever, none should be found in that body to oppose this species of special legislation, we trust that the lighty people," will rise en masse, and assert their rights by forcibly putting a stop to these nefarious and corrupt log-rolling operations. For ourselves, we consider it but a duty to bring these schemes before the public, that they may know what to anticipate, and how to apply a remedy to corrupt legislation. It appear that these grants will not be pressed until after United States Senatorship is disposed of, when they will come up in the tollowing order .- First, the East Bradway, Columbia street and Avenue D Company; next in eder will be the Grand street line; and last, the Broadway. The two former, however, may unite in one con cern, as such an arrangement is now under considera tion by the parties.

The subject of a Broadway railway is to be brought in at the last moment. These parties are also concerned with others in driving the New Haven Company from the Harlem track, in order that that company may be put to the extremity of making terms with the Second Ave-une Railroad Company, to use their track instead of the Fourth avenue.

Destruction of the Rev. Dr. Burchard's Church by Fire.

The alarm of fire yesterday morning, soon after 5 c'clock, was caused by a fire being discovered in the Presbyte rian church, situated at 117 West Thirteenth street. The apper portion of the church was first discover and it is supposed was caused by a defect in the hot air besters or flues. The church was located between a block of dwelling houses, west of the Sixth avenue. Luckily for these buildings, the church stood detached, and a space of some ten to twelve feet remained on each side of it. The firemen soon applied water, but it burnt too rapidly for them to save it, and they directed their tion to the saving of the adjoining buildings. In best han an hour the whole of the church was in ruine in the rear of this church, on Fourteenth street, is th Protestant Episcopal church of the Annunciation, Rev. nel Seabury. This church escaped damage. The Thirteenth street Presbyterian Church was instituted by a colony from the church in Houston street, of the same denomination. It was commenced in the year 1847, in which year also it was dedicated. The original cost of the church was $25,000, and of the ground on which it was built $10,000. At first the congregation was quitesmall, and it was a matter of serious was quitesmall, and it was a matter of serious concern to them how they would build and pay for the church; but by an earnest effort they at length succeeded in accomplishing the fermer, and would soon have been enabled to pay off what remained of the debt of the church had not this unfortunate occurrence taken place.

After the church was opened, the Rev. Dr Burckard was called upon to efficiate as the pastor of the congregation, which post he has filled for the last eight years with eminent ability, and to the great satisfaction of his flock. Though small at first, the congregation has gradually increased, until at the time of the burning every pew was occupied, both on the ground floor and in the galleries.

gradually increased, until at the time of the burning every pew was occupied, both on the ground floer and in the galleries.

The church was in the Grecian doric style of architecture, and though it might not compare with some of its more shown neighbors in outward appearance, its more shown neighbors in outward appearance, its materior arrangements were everything that could be desired. Dr. Burchard has recently changed his residence from West Thirteenth sirest, adjoining the church, to 16 Bank street. In doing so, he caglected to remove his library, which was totally destroyed by the fire. On this the insurance had just run out, and the doctor thereby suffers a loss of some $1,500. The library contained some very rare and valuable works. Among others, an edition of the old fathers, which cannot be replaced in this country.

We learn that the pastors and congregations of the neighboring churches have come forward in the kindest manuer, and offered the use of their lecture rooms to Dr. Burchard's congregation, until their own edifice would be rebuilt. Dr. Fotts and Dr. Sommers have both made this proffer, with the assent of their respective congregations. A meeting of the trustees of the church was held last night, to see what could be done in the way of furnishing a place of worship for the congregation, and to take measures for the immediate crection of a new building on the site of the old one. As the church has now 500 communicants, there will doubtless be no difficulty in raising the requisite sum to commence the work.

The following is the insurance on the church—Hanover Insurance Co., $6,000; St. Nicholas do., $4,000 on the organ, $1,000, as the Hamilton Insurance Co., making in all, $17,000.

Explosion of a Steam Boiler. THE ENGINEER SERIOUSLY INJURED MIRACULOUS ESCAPE OF THE RESIDENTS OF THE ADJOINING BUILDINGS.

A steam boiler exploded yesterday morning about 614 e'clock, at the carpenter's shop of James Stephens, No 56 West Twenty-first street. It appears that Jame paratery to commencing work, and after doing so he stepped outside the building, leaving no one to attend the fires. Through some inexplicable oversight he ne the fires. Through some inexplicable oversight he ne glected to acjust the steam escape, when a most fearful explosion took place, which tore the building to atoms and scattered the ruins in every direction. Mr. Dunn, hearing the explosion, attempted to escape, but was too late, he was buried beneath the mass of fallen timbers, but luckily for him the brans fell across each other and he was saved from immediate death, though he may yet die from his injuries. Fortunately, none of the workmen had arrived, nor was there any one in the building. Had it occurred an heur later the lose of life would have been terrible. The workshops were contained in a three story brick.

Had it occurred an hour later the loss of life would have been terrible.

The workshops were contained in a three story brick building, extending to the rear part of the lot, and within some twenty five feet of the rear portion of the Church of the Holy Commonion, (Br. Mohlenberg's,) corner of Twentieth street an lixth avenue; also the pastor's house and Mr. Rodgers', on Twentieth street. The concussion of the explosion, together with the fragments of brick and from thrown therefrom whattered the windows and raised the coping of the roof of Dr. Muhlenburg's house, which is situated on a line with the workshop. As might be surraised, the explosion caused the greatest consternation among the residence of the houses in the vicinity. Bricks and pieces of tunber week fourled with great force into the bedrooms in the rear of Mrs. Rodgers' house. Fortunately the servants, who slept is that part of the dwelling, were appaid attending to their business, or clue they would have antifered the most serious injuries, as they found on returning to their rooms, large pieces of stone and brick on the members of Congress would grant the prayer of their petition during the present session.

At 9 P. M. the Convention adjourned to 10 A. M. tomorrow.

the beds they had just vacated. A heavy piece of stone was discovered in a cradle, from which a child had been taken a few moments before. What remained of the building after the explosion took fire, and as the materials were most inflammable it burned with great fury. The anjeining house in Twenty-first street occupied by fire. By his-past 10 clock the fire.

Mr. Cowdrey, was much injured by the explosion, and the rear portion damaged by the fire.

By his-past 10 clock the fire was entirely put out, and the firemer released from their arduous duty.

Mr. Stephens' invariance on the-building amounted to $2,000 in the St. Nicholas Insurance Company. He estimates his loss at between $6,000 and $7,000.

Mr. James McDermott, of Hose Company No. 5, while running to the fire slipped and injured himself severely. He was taken to his residence.

Military Ball at New London.

The first annual ball of the New London City Guards came off in that city on Thursday evening last, and was altogether a most splendid affair.

With the New England people the fashion is common to open the ball at about eight o'clock, differing in this to open the ball at about eight o clock, differing in this respect very essentially from our city fashionables, who usually wast until near midnight before commencing the dance.

Having partaken of a hasty repast, we were not slow in wending our way towards the location

Where the warrior's arms
Shed their splendor,
And the maiden's charms
Shone most tender.

Meanwhile, what strain is that which floats through

And the maiden's charms
Shone most tender.

Meanwhile, what strain is that which floats through Aborn Hall? 'Tis music such as Dedworth's band alone can give. Upon entering the hail, a flood of light and beauty burst, as if by magic, upon our vision; and though New London is some one hundred and twentyfive miles from New York, they do not allow themselves to be outdone in artistic embellishments when a soirce is to come off, while in the supply of charming womens—why, our reporter almost wished hinself a bachelor again! The stars and stripes mingling with glistening muskets, and the various insignia of office and uniform which checkered text capacious amphitheatre, denoted the occasion which brought them together, while onward went the dance, and the utmost joy and hilarity seemed to lend their charmed influence to render the same highly entertaining and delightful. Among the guests who were present we noticed quite a number of military gentlemen of high disinction in that State, together with several representatives from the public press at large, while much of the wealth and fashion of the city honored the occasion with their presence. There was also a full delegation of ooth ladies and gentlemen from the neighboring cities, so that the entire number present could not have been tess than two hundred couple. We will not venture to remark upon the personal attractions of the fair sex who were there assembled, condent as we are of our mability to do them justice, should we undertake it but taving it for granted they were a fair specimen of New Rogland beauty, we must conclude the Yankee girls are decidedly pretty and highly accomplished.

Pancing was continued until the 'little hours' warned
the bappy company of the near approach of morning, when they separated, though not without regrets that the winter solstic did not contribute more length of night than that which marks the forty-irst parallel of north latitude.

night than that which marks the forty first parallel of north latitude.

The New London City Guard is commanded by Capt. Parkhurst, and does much credit to the militia system of that State.

The city of New London is located upon the west bank of the Thames, about three miles from the mouth of the barbor, where stands the celebrated Psquot House, one of the dieset watering places in New England. The harbor is said to be one of the best in the world, and has not been obstructed by ice more than once during the last century. The city was burned by the British during the Revolutionary war, September 6. 1781, the same day that witnessed the massacre at Fort Grivwold, on the opposite side of the river; but it has risen, phomis-like, and is now one of the first of commercial importance in Connecticut.

portance in Connecticut.

The ball season has fully commenced in New London, and, without disparagement to others, we are informed that the City Guards and the Nameaugs collipse everything in that line.

Brooklyn Intelligence.

Cail, of the Fourth district police, yesterday arrested a Catholic priest having charge of a congregation in East Brooklyn, on a complaint made by Hugh Fitzpatrick, charging him with assault and battery. It appears that the complainant took one of his children to the house of the priest for the purpose of having it haptised. In ac-cordance with the usual custom in such ceremonies, the cordance with the usual custom in such exemonies, the parent was required to make certain answers to questions put by the priest. Being unable to do so, after several repetitions, the priest became irritated, and in the excitment of the moment gave him several preity sever raps about the head. This mode of reasoning had no better effect, however, and the parent becoming highly incensed at the summary treatment he received, left the bouse in a hurry, and procured a warrant for the arrest of his spiritual advisor. The defendant appeared before Justice Curtis yesterday morning to answer, but as the complainant did not make himself visible, it is more than probable that the difficulty will be settled without recourse to law.
